THE LEAF AND THE BOOK.

Across the meadow-land together A youth and merry maiden stray'd, Where grasses grew and purple heather, 'Midst checkered peeps of sun and shade. At last beside the river seated, He took her book—this lover sage, One fallen willow leaf secreted, Then slowly folded down the page.

Next year the maiden slowly strolling Alone beside the river's brim Saw summer time to winter rolling, And rested there to think of him. Her eyes with sorrow's tint were shaded, Her book still pictured youth and age-The fallen willow leaf had faded Where he had folded down the page.

Years after by the stream forsaken, In winter time she wandered forth Great forest trees with storms were shaken, Sent from the Kingdom of the North. She found the spot where they were seated Before he left her for renown; No willow-leaf the book secreted But life's sad page was folden down!

An Effect of Cotton Mills South. The agreement among the cotton manufacturers of Philadelphia to shorten the production of the coarser class of fabrics has a significance which does not appear on the surface. This marrelous remedy cures those terrible headacher, cleanses the stomach, unloads the bowels, unlocks the liver, relieves constipation at once, and gives the bils a chance to go. It has become the popular and standard remedy for constitution, billousness, sick headache, hearthurn, acid stomach, and all diseases acquaiting a real nice and pleasant purgative or physic.

It never natiseates nor gripes, acts in one or two hears, and is just so delightful and refrashing a drink, that everybody likes it.

It unclouds and coals the brain, quiete the nerves, and is a sine qua nex for the headache of ladies.

It mitigates the pangs of rheumatism and gout, relieves kidney and urinary troubles, and pain in the back. For dyspeptics it acts like a charm, and has no equal in curing a constipated half. It is highly recommended for persons who travel, for merchants, clerks, mechanics, factory hands, students, teachers and all persons who lead a closely confined life and are subject to headache, dixiness and torjud bowels. If you are troubled with a coated tongete, foul breath, loss of appatite or general singishmess. Bailey's Saline Aperient will cure you. It performs better work than pills, is more pleasant and palatable, and is much cheaper, in fact it is a regular family medicine chest within itself.

Is spakles and foams just like a glass of sode water, and is just as pleasant. So cents and sold every-where.

A WOMAN'S REMEDY. At certain ages and periods of woman's life, there comes certain troubles, aches, pains and sufferings. These complaints and irregularities jeopardize the girl's life at sixteen, and follow up and baunt the married woman until after the "turn of life." Some have headaches, swimming of the head, mantal and nervous prostration, blanched cheeks, bloodtess lips, lifeless eyer, clouded brain; while indies, all these troubles can be averted and cured. We have proof from thomands.

Ague Cure

Is a purely vegetable bitter and powerful tonic, and is warranted a speedy and

and Fever, Intermittent or Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and all malarial disorders. In miasmatic districts, the rapid pulse, coated tongue, thirst, lassitude, loss of appetite, pain in the back and loins, and coldness of the spine and extremities, are only premonitions of severer symptoms, which terminate in the ague paroxysm, succeeded by high fever and profuse perspiration.

It is a startling fact, that quinine, arsenic and other poisonous minerals, form the basis of most of the "Fever and Ague Preparations," "Specifics," "Syrups," and "Tonics," in the market. The preparations made from these mineral poisons, although they are palatable, and maybreak the chill, do not cure, but leave the malarial and their own drug poison in the system, producing quinism, dizziness, ringing in the ears, headache, vertigo, and other disorders more formidable than the disease they were intended to cure.
Aven's Ague Cene thoroughly eradicates
these noxious poisons from the system, and always cures the severest cases. It contains no quinine, mineral, or any thing
